

VALE.

We had been anticipating news of the death of David William Jack for some time but the actual announcement on Thursday morning that he had died in Brisbane (where he has been hospitalised for the last 2 months) still came as a shock and with sadness.

Dave and Ellen have been on the mainland since June - spending a little while on the Gold Coast but eventually shifting to Brisbane where Dave was hospitalised.

Daughter Philippa who lives in New Zealand has been with her parents over the past few weeks; daughter Sharon and husband live in Brisbane; son Malcolm with young Ricky went over from Norfolk and Ellen's brother Herbert from New Zealand is also with them at this sad time. Daughter Sharon has stayed on the island with Malcolm and Nicki.

David William Jack was born in Invergargill, New Zealand and he and Ellen and family moved to Norfolk in 1977 where they established the Poultry farm and then went into the laundry business - working very hard in both ventures.

David was involved in Rotary for many years and was a member of the Norfolk Island Golf Club, serving also as a committee member.

The whole family has been involved at some time or other in community affairs - the girls in Guides, Ellen a former Brown Owl.

The funeral service will be held in Brisbane today and Ellen returns on Sunday.

A Memorial Service for David will be held at All Saints, Kingston at 5.15 pm. on Monday, when we will be able to convey to Ellen and family our sympathies in the loss of their dearly loved husband and father.
