Fred Landesmann

11th September 1937 – 2nd December 2016

Alfred Franz Landesmann was born in Vienna, he had an older brother and sister and a younger brother. He migrated to Australia in 1955 to look for a better life, his family were not too happy about him leaving on his own at such a young age of 18 years to travel to the other side of the world. Fred's determination to achieve and succeed at whatever he chose held him in good stead and he worked many jobs on his journey through life and no matter what he chose he always did it with a passion. He married in Adelaide in his early 20's and he and his wife Hilde had three sons and one daughter. He had his own business there building relocatable homes, he later moved to Sydney and finally to Queensland.

In 1985 he met Fay and they married in 1986 in Hawaii, they started their own business in Brisbane, Vogue Kitchens which designed and manufactured kitchens and bathrooms for the renovation market. Fred was an excellent designer and so the business grew to be very successful with three showrooms and factory and a team of six designers. In 2000 Fay and Fred moved to Norfolk Island in search of a more relaxing lifestyle and purchased a business and so once again with his passion to succeed Benjamin's has grown into a successful business.

Sadly after a three month battle with Lung Cancer his determination and passion ran out.

Fred's wishes were to be cremated and his ashes flung to the four winds so last Friday along with family and friends we said our farewells to a wonderful man out on Moreton Bay at Shorncliffe near Brisbane, he will be sadly missed.

Thank You

Fay and family would like to thank everyone for their kind words and messages during this sad time.

Such a short journey for Fred but a much harder one without the support of our special friends and family over the last 3 months.

Fred wishes were to be cremated and his ashes flung to the four winds so he could be everywhere, so that is what we did last Friday with a gathering of family and friends to farewell him after his final ride on a Harley.

Thank you all again for the love and support you have given us, I am truly blessed to part of such a caring community.
