

VALE - LLOYD LESTER

In a letter to the Paradise Hotel last week, Mrs. J.E.Lester of 18 Matai Street, Levin, New Zealand wrote:

"As my husband Lloyd died on 12th February and arrangements to take our fifth trip to Norfolk Island since 1956 had to be cancelled, I would be very happy if you would let the people of Norfolk Island know as he was really well known on the island having been in the New Zealand Army stationed on Norfolk in 1943/44.

His ashes have been scattered over Norfolk. That was his wish, if by any chance, his death came before mine.

Norfolk Island is an island of peace and well I knew it too, and so I hope Lloyd really is at peace with the Islanders and the island he loved so much.

Thanks a lot for the wonderful hospitality the Paradise Hotel has always extended to us".

There may be many who will remember Lloyd Lester. We convey to Mrs. Lester and members of the family, our sincere condolences.
